Robert Fowler named Top Business Broker In the World by VR Business Brokers

St. Louis, MO (April 30, 2009) - Robert Fowler, Owner of VR Mergers & Acquisitions in St. Louis, was recently ranked as the top business broker in the world by VR Business Brokers. His ranking among more than 125 owners/brokers in North America, Europe and South America was based on personal business volume during 2008.

“Being ranked the #1 owner among all of our offices is an accomplishment of prestige and honor in the mergers & acquisitions industry, said VR President Peter King, in announcing the ranking “Robert Fowler and VR St. Louis have distinguished themselves through a remarkable performance this past year and demonstrated, once again, their foremost expertise and experience in successfully selling businesses.”

“I am grateful for this recognition, but more importantly, grateful we have been able to help our clients accomplish their goals, by selling their business” said Robert Fowler.

Founded in 1979, VR has independently owned and operated business brokerage offices around the globe and has sold more businesses than anyone in the world.

VR Mergers & Acquisitions – St. Louis is a leading specialist in the sale of construction, infrastructure and transportation businesses. The company has successfully conducted more transactions in this specialized sector than any other brokerage or mergers and acquisitions firm in the U. S.
